Haiti

After 3 days of prayer and fasting Haitian believers near Cap Haitien met in the city for a combined rally.

Guenson Charlot, President of Emmaus University of Haiti, wrote:

Keep on praying with us for Haiti, family 🇸🇩! The battle rages, and the bloody front-lines are well filled with our brothers and sisters.

Join us on your feet, remembering His past faithfulness. Join us on your knees, pleading His presence, peace and power. Join us open hands, waiting for the future fulfillment of His promises.

"Let us, your children, be those who would respond to unspeakable events by immediately seeking your face and petitioning your mercies, then offering relief, rendering aid, practicing hospitality and love of neighbor, working for justice, for peace, for reconciliation, and for the greater flourishing of our communities and our nation and our world."

-Douglas Kaine McKelvey

Pray with our Haitian brothers and sisters that God will bring revival to Haiti; change the hearts of gang leaders and kidnappers; that those held for ransom will be released, unharmed; that fuel will be delivered throughout the country.

Kevin and Penney Willms, Men for Missions

Penney's father passed on October 28. Please pray for the family as they grieve. Ask for strength as they make the arrangements for the funeral and say the final "goodbyes".

Because Jesus lives we can face life today, tomorrow, and forever,
