Men for Missions / British Columbia Flooding

Please continue to pray for the people of British Columbia as a state of emergency was declared because of torrential rain and floods which closed highways, trapped people in vehicles, and forced evacuation of some communities including livestock. MFM members living in the BC report their families are safe but many friends and extended family members have been greatly affected by the flooding.

Please pray for safety for everyone as they cleanup and make necessary repairs in the effected areas of British Colombia. Ask God to use this time of great difficulty to draw people to Himself.

The Methodist Seminary has its accreditation review on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 23rd and 24th. The Ministry of Education organizes an international commission made up in part of university theology professors from different European countries. Not only do we have to demonstrate that we are competent in what we are doing (two days of interviews and questions) but we also have the reality that the spiritual values and goals of a school like ours, is not the same as the Faculty of Theology at a secular university.

What counts as quality in the Kingdom of God is not exactly the same as how a secular university defines quality! Obviously maintaining accreditation opens a lot of doors to our graduates, but we trust that God is in control and knows where we need to go.

Pray, as Jesus said, that we would be wise as serpents but innocent as doves in responding to their questions.

Because Jesus lives we can face life today, tomorrow, and forever,
