

OMS Prayerline – Saturday, November 23, 2019

Mark and Livia Nelson, Estonia

On Saturday Mark and Livia had a five-hour training session for lay people about one-hour east of Tallinn. The past few weeks have been especially busy and they are very tired. Please pray for renewed strength as they go into another full week.

Bill and Julie Edler, Haiti

Praise God that land has been found for the new clinic and about 40% has been paid. Pray for the remaining funds for the land and building to come in quickly. Continue to pray that God will intervene and bring peace to Haiti.

Helmut and Tina Markeli, Retired

Our home church in Edmonton will hold its last public service on November 24th. Pray for a deep awareness of God's presence and comfort as well as a sense of God's commissioning for each individual as we go to new churches and new ministries. Another congregation has leased the building, starting December 1. Pray for Tina as she coordinates the details of the "handover" this week and then finishes up the office work and reporting.

Because Jesus lives we can face life today, tomorrow, and forever,

Tina Markeli
